

It is without reservation that we, Key Surgical Assistants of Texas, L.P. highly recommend Medical ProSource as a medical staffing agency and service to those entities who utilize medical personnel both clinically, as well as clerically.

The staff at Medical ProSource are extremely knowledgeable and offer exceptional service to provide our company with a pool of applicants upon request. The candidates we utilize are those who are well versed in medical collections, appeals, and billing, as well as clinical personnel, such as Licensed Surgical Assistants (LSAs) and Registered Nurse First Assistants (RNFAs).

The selection and hiring process is hassle-free and is conveniently guided by the highly trained staff of Medical ProSource. Medical ProSource will initiate the candidate interviews with our company by contacting a liaison who represents Key Surgical Assistants of Texas, L.P. Moreover, the Medical ProSource team immediately follows up with inquiry on the outcome of the interview and will organize second interviews if necessary. Next, if the candidate is selected, Medical ProSource will contact the potential employee to inform them of the job offer and pay rate. Medical ProSource provides their affiliates the option of hiring directly; temporary/contract employment; as well as temporary/contract to permanent hire employment. The contract we are provided with by Medical ProSource contains clearly defined guidelines within the staffing fee agreement. Thus, this provides our company with various avenues and versatility with a transparent medium.

Consequently, if a candidate is selected for temporary or direct hire, and does not fulfill obligations and standards to the company, Medical ProSource will handle the dismissal process.

As aforementioned, Medical ProSource provides convenience, quality and exceptional service. Key Surgical Assistants of Texas, L.P. recommends Medical ProSource staffing agency to any institution or company needing both clinical and clerical medical personnel.

Sincerely,
